The Interference Protection Group (IPG), responding to concerns of GBT site management that RFI be more aggressively managed, has recently requested that GBT staff should shut down their machines overnight and on weekends.

To clarify:

Windows Users
=====

Unless you have been told otherwise please shutdown your machine, turn off the monitor and speakers and any other devices such as printers that are directly attached to your PC.

Unix Users
=====

Unless you have been told otherwise leave your machine running but turn off your monitor(s) and speakers.

All Users
=====

Please make sure any other unnecessary electronics and electrical appliances such as radios, coffee engines etc are turned off.
